

I can't express in words how well the "No Call" list works for Wisconsin today. I am employed in the telecommunications industry for 25 years and am a retired chief executive of local government. Prior to current regulation I received steady complaints at work and as a public official. I speak for the industry and for the people.....we don't want change!